

Legislature okays double mill levy

Final nod rests with Regents, voters; increase to be used only in emergency

Nebraska's state legislature passed a bill Thursday authorizing the doubling of the present one mill tax levy for the University of Omaha. The bill, L. B. 78, will go into effect only upon the approval of the university's Board of Regents and the Omaha voters.

However, the University of Omaha has "no immediate plans to ask for a public vote to authorize doubling its tax levy," according to Charles Hoff, vice-president in charge of business management for the university.

Emergency mill

Permission to raise the maximum tax levy from one to two mills was asked for only in case of an emergency. Hoff says the need for the passage of the bill depends on whether the government asks Omaha University to provide war training facilities.

If the enrollment drops to a point due to military demands at which the university would be in the red, the additional funds provided by the enactment of this bill would be necessary also, according to Hoff.

Action needed

Previously, President Milo Bail had pointed out that since the state legislature meets only once every two years, it was important that action be taken during this session as a "precaution."

State Senators from Omaha, Karl Vogel, George Syas, and William Moulton were sponsors of the bill which was introduced to the state legislature on Jan. 9.

Air Force team here tomorrow

Air Force officers will arrive on the OU campus tomorrow morning to interview students interested in officer training programs for the U. S. Air Force.

Capt. Frank Voigtman and Capt. Edwin Baquet will interview all applicants tomorrow through Friday from 9 to 5 in the Student Center. As well as answering questions on the programs, the selection team will process any immediately qualified students.

College men have two choices. They can enter into a year's Aviation Cadet or Navigator training course. As a cadet in either course, they will be paid $105 a month, and upon graduation they will be awarded a second lieutenant's commission.

Both men and women have an opportunity to apply for Air Force Officer Candidate School where they will go through six months of intensive training in administrative and technical subjects.

Honors, skit set for final rally of season Friday in auditorium

OU cheers for the last home basketball game of the season will echo through the auditorium Friday at 12:30 p.m.

Senior team members will be honored at the pre-OU vs. Wayne University of Detroit rally. Head basketball coach Don Pflasterer will be on hand as well as the other coaches.

Special features are being planned for the rally for the last home game of the season. A skit will be presented by John Marshall, Jim McPherson, and Doug White. The University Band, under the direction of Dr. Robert W. Fiester, will furnish music for the event.

The complete cheerleading squad will also be on hand to help boost spirit for the OU tilt with Wayne University.

"They've played good hard basketball all season, so let's show our appreciation with a good turnout Friday," urges Jean Duncan, head cheerleader. Miss Duncan also points out that the 12:30 time will give students a chance to come in for the rally after lunch.

Up to Friday afternoon, the Independent Students Association had not selected their candidates. Each organization is allowed to enter six contestants. Unaffiliated women may apply in room 306A on or before Friday.

Beauty candidates total 30 thus far

Five organizations have announced their entrants for the annual Tomahawk Beauty Contest, according to Co-chairman Jean Duncan. The annual competition will be held March 2.

All students names have been released by participating campus organizations.

Alpha Xi Delta: According to Jean Duncan, the Janis Johnson, Dorothy Hines, chairman for the event, the committee is working on a new plan to make it possible for the semi-finalists and finalists to appear in both formal and street clothes. This plan will depend entirely upon timing, added Miss Duncan.

Other entrants

Gamma Sigma Omicron: Betty Rosholt, Phyllis Rudeen, Pat Mordford, Shirley Hawkins, Joan Bugbee, and Harriet Burbridge. Sigma Kappa: Ruth Lane, Nancy Spring, Bonnie Kundel, Joanne Pierce, Darlene O'Brien, and Shirley Swanson. Zeta Tau Alpha: Marilyn Sibert, Donna Fada, Mary Rispler, Derrelle Blumer, Joan Farris and Bonnie Burgess.

Up to Friday afternoon, the Omaha University is after its tenth win Saturday night. Following Friday night's game with Colorado College on the home floor, the OU team holds a standing of nine games won and ten lost.

New plans

According to Jean Duncan, the Janis Johnson, Dorothy Hines, chairman for the event, the committee is working on a new plan to make it possible for the semi-finalists and finalists to appear in both formal and street clothes. This plan will depend entirely upon timing, added Miss Duncan.

All contestants will be contacted for rehearsals which will be held during the week preceding the contest.

Entrants will be judged on poise, personality, and beauty.

W-H gives grants to Bursik, Karr

Two University of Omaha juniors were awarded Omaha World-Herald retailing scholarships of $100 each, Friday morning. The recipients are Betty Karr and Paul Bursik.

These awards are based primarily on scholarship. Students must have a more than B average to qualify, and must be working towards a Bachelor of Science degree in retailing.

This year's scholarship winners were selected by a committee composed of John W. Lucas, dean of students; Kermit Hanson, World-Herald, promotion manager, and M. Cooper Smith of the Association of Retailers, upon recommendation by Huford H. Davison, head of the Retailing Department here at the university.

Additional awards for the current semester, will be made next fall.

Two story contests offered to students

Here's a chance for students who regard themselves as "budding authors."

Two writing contests have been announced by Travel and Study, Inc., and the editors of Mademoiselle magazine.

The Mademoiselle contest open only to women undergraduates. Again this year, Mademoiselle will award a $500 fiction prize for each of the two best short stories submitted by April 15.

Stories must be between 3,000 and 5,000 words. Other rules for the contest may be secured in The Gateway or by writing to: College Fiction Contest, Mademoiselle, 122 East 42nd St., New York 17, N. Y.

Three months in Paris is the prize for the best entry in the Essay Contest on Paris. The Essay is sponsored by the French government. All information for this contest may be obtained from Travel and Study, Inc., an Organization for Study Abroad, 100 East 56th St., New York 22, N. Y. A detailed brochure will be mailed on request.

Canada's prof Rimpel joins faculty at OU

OU's Education Department has added another new member to its teaching staff.

University Band gives student 'pop' concert

Dr. Robert W. Fiester was scheduled to lead the 45-member University Band in a student "pop" concert at 9:30 this morning in the auditorium.

Classes were to have been shortened for the event.

Nine compositions including marches, and overture, and American folk songs were to have highlighted this morning's band convocation.

Dr. Fiester had promised to weave into the program music that would be of interest to all students in an effort to gain their interest in the event. The concert was explicitly designed for the students, hence the name, student "pop" concert.

Included in the scheduled program was a Fiester original, "Esprit De Corps March," written while the composer served in the U. S. Army Band.

New risers

Selections never before played for the student body by the OU Band were to have been presented. The band was also to have used the new stage risers for the first time.

Opening the 9:30 convocation was to have been "Colorado Concert March" by Holmes and Grainer's arrangement of "Irish Tune from County Derry." An alto saxophone solo by Don Hanson, "Beautiful Colorado," was to have been presented.

Cornet trio

Paul Thompson, Bill Miller, and Lloyd Jacobson, coronetists, were scheduled to play a trio entitled, "The Three Trumpeters." A five tune medley of Latin American music, "Rhythms of Rio," was also to have been in the spotlight.

Dr. Fiester hopes another student concert may be presented later in the semester.

Senior banquet, dance will be at Fontenelle

Senior activity plans are under way.

The senior banquet and dance will be held June 1 at the Fontenelle Hotel, according to Chairman Tom Townsend.

Co-chairman of the Dance Committee Don Nielsen and Jacqueline Geilus are making arrangements for a band for the senior event.

Students may have choice of five famous European schools this year

Students who are interested in studying overseas this summer will have a better chance to be accepted than last year.

This is the latest notice from the Institute of University Studies Abroad. Through early applications, students may have their choice of five famous European universities. Included in the list are Paris, Madrid, Fribourg, Oxford and the University College in Dublin, Ireland. A series of tours also has been planned by the Institute.

All information may be obtained by writing to the Institute of University Studies Abroad, Washington 6, D. C.

Four scholarships

Four Ralph Bunche Scholarships of approximately $350 each are being offered to American and Canadian students this year. The scholarships will be offered to American and Canadian students this year.

Nine books added to Fore Memorial lists

The following books will be on the shelves in the browsing room for a two week period. They include Van Doren's "Jane Mecom," "Eleanor of Aquitane" by Kelly, and Lloyd's "Borzoi Book of Modern Dance."

Others are "Paderewski As I Knew Him" by Strakacz; Chicago Daily News' publication of "My Greatest Day in Baseball," and Richards' "The Wrath of Achilles."

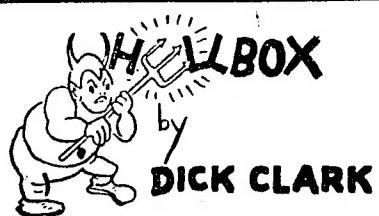

Miss Lord emphasizes that students may check out books from the Fore Reading Room with the same process for checking out books from the library. These books may be loaned on a weekly basis.

The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of merit by the Association of Electro-Chemical and Electro-Metallurgical Industries of Norway. They are in honor of Nobel Prize winner Dr. Ralph Bunche.

Scholarship candidates should make application with Dean Norman Nordstrand, Oslo Summer School for American Students, St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn.

The 1951 summer school session begins June 23 and ends Aug. 4. Approximately 250 students will be accepted. Six credits may be earned during the six-week course.

Emphasis will be placed on Norwegian culture. Courses will also be offered in the social, economic and political fields of Scandinavian countries.

I was framed by reactionaries

By Ima Gambler

So you want card playing? Great!! Defy the school authorities. I did. Did it for years. How do you think I could afford to go to school. Taking money off the freshman and even off some of the sophomores, was like lifting feature material from other papers.

Like some hundred-odd other Humanities students, I am currently hard at work trying to decipher a book called "Manhattan Transfer." It's about New York and 20 or 30 people there who don't even know each other. It got so confusing I decided to get a little outside help from a friend of mine who's majoring in English.

I found him in the northend of the library reading some musty smelling manuscripts, and told him my troubles.

"Don't worry," he said, "there ain't nobody that can understand it. But its darn good writing ain't it? Anyway whacha expect from a twenty-five-cent paperbound book?

Be thankful you ain't reading William Saroyan, he ha, I once read a whole book by him without understanding a thing isn't that a joke?

Or Gertrude Stein, will you be mine — suffering baked bread, a lamb and a rose—"

At this point his eyes began to roll and little flecks of foam appeared at the corners of his mouth. As I left hurriedly the librarian was pinning him to the floor with a Webster's Unabridged.

Anybody want to buy a brand new paper bound copy of "Manhattan Transfer"?

My nomination for the most irritating song of any year is the "Petite Waltz." If the song isn't familiar to you, listen next time you're on a bus. Bus radio plays it every five minutes along with its other two records, "Rosses" and "Ain't She Sweet?"

Speaking of music, there seems

Who would report me to the council? That guy over there? That's a good one. He was afraid I had seen him slipping the green stuff under the lunch table. We had a system. Every one knew everyone else gambled and no one talked. Real secret policesh-like.

Anyway who could report me to the council. Listen brother, I was on the council! We buried the issue of gambling. Impossible! we said. A card playing—Gambling! Brother and sister act.

You ask me if I would gamble if others played fair. Well that would mean that I'd hit my folks for extra money, stay home seven nights out of seven, committing social suicide and playing "Old Maid" and "Fish". Am I insane?

You ask me if I would play cards for money when the Deans aren't around. Frankly brother, I've never really gambled under the Dean's noses. I'm not so dumb. All I want is the chance—again.

Tell 'em I'm pluggin' for 'em will ya' brother?

Hey guard, come on and let my brother out and bring me some water will ya'?

V-Day invitations sent to high school seniors

High school seniors and their parents from Omaha, Council Bluffs and surrounding towns will attend a special evening session of the third annual Vocations Day Feb. 28.

Over 2500 invitations were sent to local schools as well as to 12 or 15 smaller schools in this area. The special evening session will be held in the university auditorium at 8 p. m.

Dr. Thomas E. McMullen, professor of education at the University of Pennsylvania and guest speaker for OU's Vocations Day, will speak at the evening session.

Doane's Dutcher will speak at Phys Ed vocation confab

The Physical Education Department will hold a Physical Education Seminar as part of Vocations Day, February 28. The seminar will start at 1:30 p.m. in room 209 of the Administration building.

The guest speaker for this year's seminar will be Mr. James Dutcher. Dutcher is the athletic director and an instructor of physical education at Doane College in Crete, Nebr.

Dutcher's speech topic is, "Your Future in Physical Education." He is a qualified speaker on this subject, as he has 15 or 20 of his former students now coaching in Nebraska high schools.

Besides his duties as athletic director and physical education instructor, Dutcher is also the head football and track coach. Since coming to Doane as a coach, Dutcher has won two conference football titles.

Dutcher is an alumnus of Doane, graduating in 1940. He started his coaching career for the Tigers in 1942, and his team promptly captured the old Nebraska Church College Conference championship.

In 1946, the Nebraska College Conference was organized, and his grididers brought the first championship to the Tiger school. Because of this feat, Dutcher was given faculty tenure.

Last year, Dutcher's track squad galloped through the season undefeated, and won the NCC title at Kearney.

When Dutcher finishes his speech, a discussion period will follow, and he will answer any questions or discuss any problems that anyone in the audience wishes to have talked over. Following the discussion movies of the Omaha U. Wayne game of last season will be shown.

This year's seminar marks the third year it has been held by the Physical Education Department.

It was started in 1949, when Dave fired and baskets by Bob Rose, Gurnett, Nebraska football great, net and Don Claussen iced the contest.

Men's murals—

Blackhawk maintain first rung in 'mural basketball; bowling top tied

Front running Blackhawks maintained their first place hold in the 'mural basketball league.

Paced by Harold Olson and John Potts with seven points apiece, the 'Hawks rolled over the Otoe's, 81-12, last Wednesday in the Field House. Nalty scored five markers to lead the Otoe's.

Alpha Sigma Lambda won a low-scoring duel from Pawnee's, 18-13. The win kept the Alpha Sig's one half game behind the league leaders. Schultz led the winners' scoring with eight points. Don Nielsen dunked four for the losers.

Theta Phi Delta slaughtered Phi Epsilon Pi, 39-8. It was Phi Eps' seventh consecutive defeat.

Brenden Gallagher and Ben Butler divided scoring honors with 10 points apiece for the winners. Jack Noodell provided half of the Phi Eps' points with four markers.

Schedule (February 20-23)

Omaha U ends Wesleyan win string at five

Omaha University's cagers turned over a new leaf and handed Nebraska Wesleyan a 55-44 setback, Wednesday night at the Nebraska University Coliseum.

The Indians looked like a new ball club compared to the inconsistency showed during the Augustana contest, Monday, February 12.

The victory sniped a Plainsman five game winning streak while ending an Omaha two game drought. One of the Wesleyan victories was over highly touted Hastings College.

Wesleyan led once only. Bob Gaston sunk a free throw in the early seconds; but Bob Moscrey countered with a looper, and the Indians were never headed.

The Red and Black held leads of 10-3 and 12-7 before the Plainsmen rallied to cut the margin to four points at the half, 25-21.

After Joe Gurnett started the Indians going in the second canto with a quick bucket, the Indians momentarily reverted to their Monday night doldrums.

This gave Wesleyan the chance to pull in front, but the Plainsmen could only close the gap to 28-26 and 31-30 in the middle of the last half.

From there on out, it was all Omaha U.

The Indians spurted to a 39-31 lead and the Plainsmen made their last futile bid. However, their drive was checked at 39-36, and the Omahans poured on the coal to pull the journey to Manhatten.

Papooses smear Navy Base 63-37

The Papooses garnered their tenth win of the season, Friday night, as they downed the Lincoln Naval Base, 63-37.

Coach Ernie Flecky's charges are now sporting a 10-4 record for the year.

Don L. Fitch was the workhorse for the Papooses as he meshed 18 markers, the most points that the blond forward has made in any game this season.

The Lincoln team held Omaha to a comparatively slow first half, as the Papooses left the loof at intermission owing a 29-19 lead.

But the Indians came roaring back in the second stanza, to score nearly two points for every one of Lincoln's.

Twelve Papooses saw action, and all but one of them came through in the scoring department. Aksel Schmidt and Lynn Hooten were demons on the free throw line, as they hit seven out of nine, and four for six respectively.

Merlyn Fratt tied for runner-up honors with Schmidt for Omaha with nine markers.

Fratt gave the meager crowd a thrill as he looped in a long shot from nearly mid court in the dying seconds of the first half.

Indian wrestling trip to K-State postponed

University of Omaha wrestlers had the chore of meeting the Kansas State grapplers put off for a while.

The Indians were scheduled to go against the Wildcats in Manhatten, Kansas, last Friday night.

The team got a few miles out of Omaha and found that the roads were too icy to continue the jaunt.

The meet has been postponed until Feb. 27, when the Red and Black will again attempt to make the journey to Manhatten.

By postponing the Kansas State meet, the Indians will have to go against the University of Nebraska before they meet the Wildcats. This makes it impossible for any comparison between the Indians and the Cornhusker teams.

But it will give Omaha some idea of what to expect from Kansas State as the Wildcats lost to Nebraska U., 21-8.

Women prepare for Wesleyan Play Day

Thursday, Gamma's forfeited to Alpha Xi, and Chi O won over the Independents, 27-12 in OUWI basketball tournaments last week.

There is a poster in the lower hall of the main building which will have the schedule of the current week's games, and the results of the previous week's games.

Teams can check the chart for correct time and date rather than have to go out to the hut.

Women who are going to Wesleyan for the Play Day are requested to remember the meeting in the P. E. Hut Wednesday, Feb. 21 at 12:30.

OUWI urges all girls to come to the hut and support their particular group during the basketball tourneys.

Colo. College falls to OU cagers 67-61

OU moved one step closer to the sparked the Indian back court man-500 record by dumping Colorado College, 67-61 at the Fieldhouse, Gurnett was especially outstanding on defense in the fact that he have won nine games while drop- ping ten.

Puzzled by the Tiger full court denfenses, the befuddled Omahans fell behind 6-0 in the opening minutes.

Both quints then traded baskets for the most part with CC in front 15-9 after six minutes. The Indians began to counteract to Bengal defense by resorting to the Colorado College's own styles of pass, run and run.

The move proved to be effective, and the Indians knotted the count at 19-19 after ten minutes.

Omaha led for the first time, 21-20, moments later; but it was short lived as both squads battled to a 32-32 deadlock at the intermission.

The Tigers were in the lead most of the early minutes of the last half before Bob Rose's two-hander evened things at 48-48, with 11:30 the clock.

The Red and Black then led the rest of the way with margins of one point, 55-54, and nine points, 67-58.

Omaha, worked on a 58-54 lead, went into a stall, taking only cinch shots at the basket.

Over-eager to control the ball, the Tigers committed fouls which only went to pad the Indian total.

Rose was the big man in the OU attack with seven baskets and two charity tosses, plus playing an excellent floor game.

Bob Moscrey, versatile guard-forward, not only potted 14 count-ers, but also was death off both boards until he left the game via the foul route at 4:38.

Although no ball of fire from the field, Don Claussen was a main-stay in setting up plays and crack-ing the Bengal press tactics, to say nothing of his rebounding power.

Student Council will sponsor annual Tea Dance Thursday

Gary Penisten and orchestra will play at reception honoring new OU students

The new January freshmen will be officially welcomed by Omaha University students at the annual Tea Dance Thursday afternoon.

The dance will be held in the auditorium from 4 to 6 p.m. The color theme this year will be royal blue and pink. The auditorium will have the royal blue and pink crepe paper for decoration. The centerpiece on the serving table will also be decorated in the same colors.

For refreshments, free cokes will be served to all students who attend the dance. As usual the Student Council is sponsoring the annual dance. June Williams is the chairman in charge of the affair. Her committee consists of Jean Duncan, Bob Keim and Synthia Judd.

The faculty sponsors will be Mr. Paul Beck, Mr. Glenn Desmond, Mr. George De Witt and Mr. J. Lee Westrate. Students will be admitted by activity cards which they are to show at the door when they enter the auditorium.

Gary Penisten will furnish the music for the students with his 10-piece band. This is the first time his band has played here since adding three more members. Penisten, an OU student, has played for the tea dance twice before.

Miss Williams invites all students to get acquainted with the new freshmen.

Phi Ep's mothers to be honored tomorrow

Phi Epsilon Pi will hold their first annual Mother-Son reception tomorrow night in the faculty clubroom from 8 to 10 p.m.

Twenty-five members and their mothers are expected to attend. Tea, coffee, pastries, nuts and mints will be served. Leonard Lefitz will be in charge of the reception. The committee consists of Harvey Cooper, Jerry Roistein and Paul Saltzman.

The sponsors who will be guests are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Brock, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Utley and Mr. Leonard Weiner.

Sunday afternoon the fraternity initiated 11 pledges at the Blackstone Hotel. Rabbi Lou Silberman was the honored guest at a banquet following the ceremonies. The initiation started at 2 p.m.

The new initiates are Dave Belzer, Jerome Belzer, Warren Denenberg, Sam Fried, Norman Goldenberg, Hugo Kahn, Jack Katz, Harold Novak, Maynard Tateiman, Harry Wise and Melvin Weiss.

The banquet was held in the Fern Room. Fathers of the new actives were also present honoring the new actives.

Following the banquet, the new officers were officially installed. They are Bob Rubenstein, superior; Leonard Lefitz, vice superior; Harold Oberman, corresponding secretary; Herald Meyers, recording secretary; Martin Nedrenberg, treasurer, and Jack Noodell, publicity correspondent.

Social Science group sends out invitations

Invitations to join the OU Social Science Honor Society have been sent out by that organization to outstanding students in the social science fields.

Membership is limited to students who have earned at least 20 undergraduate hours in the fields of economics, government, history and sociology. They must have an accumulative average in those fields of at least 3.00. These students must be recommended by an instructor and the heads of the departments. The Dean of Student's Office must in turn certify the student's eligibility.

Dick Winchell is president of the society. Tom Townsend is vice-president and Dr. Sarah Tirrell, secretary-treasurer.

Sometime during this semester, the society plans to petition for membership in Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor society. Winchell stated he expects the petition to be accepted inasmuch as the constitution of the present OU society is patterned after that of Pi Gamma Mu.

Players will vote on spring play at meet

The spring production of the University Players will be chosen at that organization's business meeting tomorrow afternoon. The meeting is at 4 p.m. in room 385.

A committee headed by Chairman Del Hansen has been reading and discussing a number of plays in preparation for final selection by the Players. From the various plays read, three will be chosen for final vote. From these three, the spring play will be named.

Players on the committee are: Glennys Chittenden, Bonnie Coleman, Lee Houghton, Leonore Marx, Tom Meyer and Don Saroian.

According to Mrs. Frances Key, faculty sponsor of the group, some of the plays under construction are: "Belvedere," "The Hasty Heart," "First Lady," "My Sister Eileen," "Over 21" and "The Philadelphia Story."

However, she explained, the final selection does not necessarily have to come from these plays alone. The reading committee held its final meeting yesterday.

Players' President Jim Daley has urged all students interested in becoming new members of University Players to attend the group's meeting tomorrow.

Sig Ep installs local fraternity Saturday at Fontenelle Hotel

Alpha Lambda has been officially installed into Sigma Phi Epsilon. The installation ceremonies were held Saturday and Sunday at the Fontenelle Hotel. The initiation began at 8:30 a.m. Saturday. At 6 p.m. a banquet honored the new chapter.

The Alpha Sig's were installed by Sig Ep representatives from Nebraska University, Baker University of Kansas and Drake University. Those initiated were the present members of Alpha Sig, including pledges from last semester, and members of the Alpha Sig alumni association who desired to go national.

Sunday's activities consisted of an indoctrination and a reception at 2 p.m. Guests at the reception were the Sig Ep officials, Omaha U officials, presidents of the other social organizations on the campus, the Alpha Sig Mothers' Club and all parents of the fraternity members.

Dr. William C. Smolenske, Grand President of Sig Ep, was one of the honored guests. William W. Hindman, Sig Ep Grand Secretary, and Carl Petersen, Traveling Secretary, also attended the initiation.

Home Ec Club holds initiation at meeting

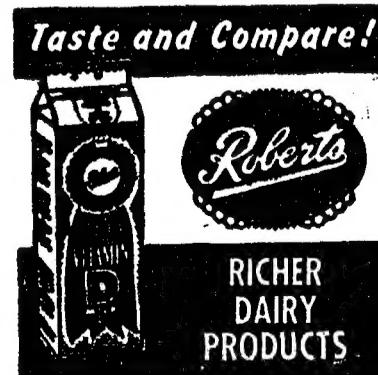

The Home Economics Club met Tuesday to initiate three new members. They are Joan Clawson, Alyce Beachler and Barbara Wilkerson.

Business at the meeting included a discussion of the Nebraska State Home Economics Convention to be held in Lincoln, Mar. 9-10. Plans are being made to send an Omaha delegation to the convention. OU Home Ec Club President Pat Doyle is state secretary of the Nebraska clubs.

The club's next meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 27.
